- 14. During the period under review, source determined that the Schmidt-Rosengarten sawmill and carpentry, which employed about 100 workmen, got an order for windows, doors and floors for barracks installations under construction in Lieberose and Ruedersdorf.

Comment. The present information, to a certain degree, supports the previously carried and/or assumed distribution of units in the barracks installations in Frankfurt/Oder, which, with the 7th Gds Necz Div differed from that prior to the summer training period. See

The retransfer from Lieberose of tank units of the division on 3 trains had already been indicated on 9 October. The troops observed on 11 October presumatly were units of the 25th Gds Mecz Regt of the Div, which may have returned from exercises of the division, probably in the area east of Fuerstenwalde. Although, according to information by other sources, these exercises were still under way on 15 October, they as well as the employment in Berlin of presumatly a mechanized regiment of the division, would account for the rather light occupation of the tarracks installations of the division in mid-October.

Sources of paragraphs 1 to 3 and 8 to 14 had also differed considerably on the occupation strength of the Eichhorn Kaserne in the first mentioned reference report. As the installation is telieved to include transient quarters for the personnel exchange, this barracks may quarter a considerably number of troops temporarily stationed there, an addition to occupation of about 400 troops of a guard and komendatura unit.
